"Leadership in Practice was a character-building event that I wish each high school student could participate in. I went from how I was before the camp - a shy girl that wouldn't dare speak to unknown peers - to the more outgoing person I knew was within me. I met so many new people and made friends that I will have for years to come."

Maria, Columbia Independent School

Economic development, more than anything else, depends on a talented workforce. Developing that workforce begins in our classrooms with our youth. Programs organized by the Missouri Chamber Foundation focus on encouraging students to be bold, become leaders and challenge themselves with real world experiences. The best way to develop leadership skills is to practice, practice, and practice. LEADERSHIP IN PRACTICE was developed over 22 years ago to develop and instill critical leadership, entrepreneurship and life skills to students throughout Missouri. Once again, this year's program will be held on the campus of Westminster College in Fulton, MO.

LEADERSHIP IN PRACTICE training is divided into five areas: global leadership, civic leadership, economic leadership, ethical leadership and personal leadership. The key to our training is for students to learn by participating in activities, simulations and small group discussions. They are mentored by experienced business, civic and education leaders from across the state, imparting real world knowledge to help guide their development during the program. Students evaluate their leadership skills based on what they learn and then set goals to improve those skills.

The LEADERSHIP IN PRACTICE program is designed to provide young Missourians the opportunity to learn the characteristics of good leadership and apply these skills through real-life activities and challenges. Sponsors are essential to the overall success of this program. We welcome your organization's participation and partnership in our 2019 program to be held this summer.
