

RHONDA TRAVERS

Founder & President
Travers Training & Consulting

Rhonda Travers is a business-oriented leader recognized for making a positive impact, building teams and talent, and driving results. With over 25 years in internal audit, risk, and compliance leadership roles, Rhonda fulfilled her passion for educating business leaders and developing professionals by launching Travers Training & Consulting. As Founder & President, Rhonda leverages her corporate background to help small businesses and nonprofit organizations increase employee retention, improve productivity, and build a people-focused framework. She shares her unique approach to training and process improvement through People Advisory Services, Training Workshops, Leadership Development, and Speaking Engagements.

Rhonda is also committed to making a difference through positive community development. She has fulfilled multiple volunteer leadership roles over 17 years including the St. Louis Chapter of the Institute of Internal Auditors (IIA) Board of Governors, Girl Scouts of Eastern Missouri Women's Leadership Network Steering Committee, American Club Association (ACA) Chesterfield Business Club, Little Black Book - Women in Business, and the American Cancer Society Relay For Life Event Leadership Team.

After earning a Bachelor of Science in Accounting from Millikin University, Rhonda completed the Certified Internal Auditor (CIA), Certified Public Accountant (CPA), and Practitioner of Neuro-Linguistic Programming (NLP) certifications.
